1954

Southwestern University

GEORGETOWN, TEXAS

Ladies and Gentlemen!

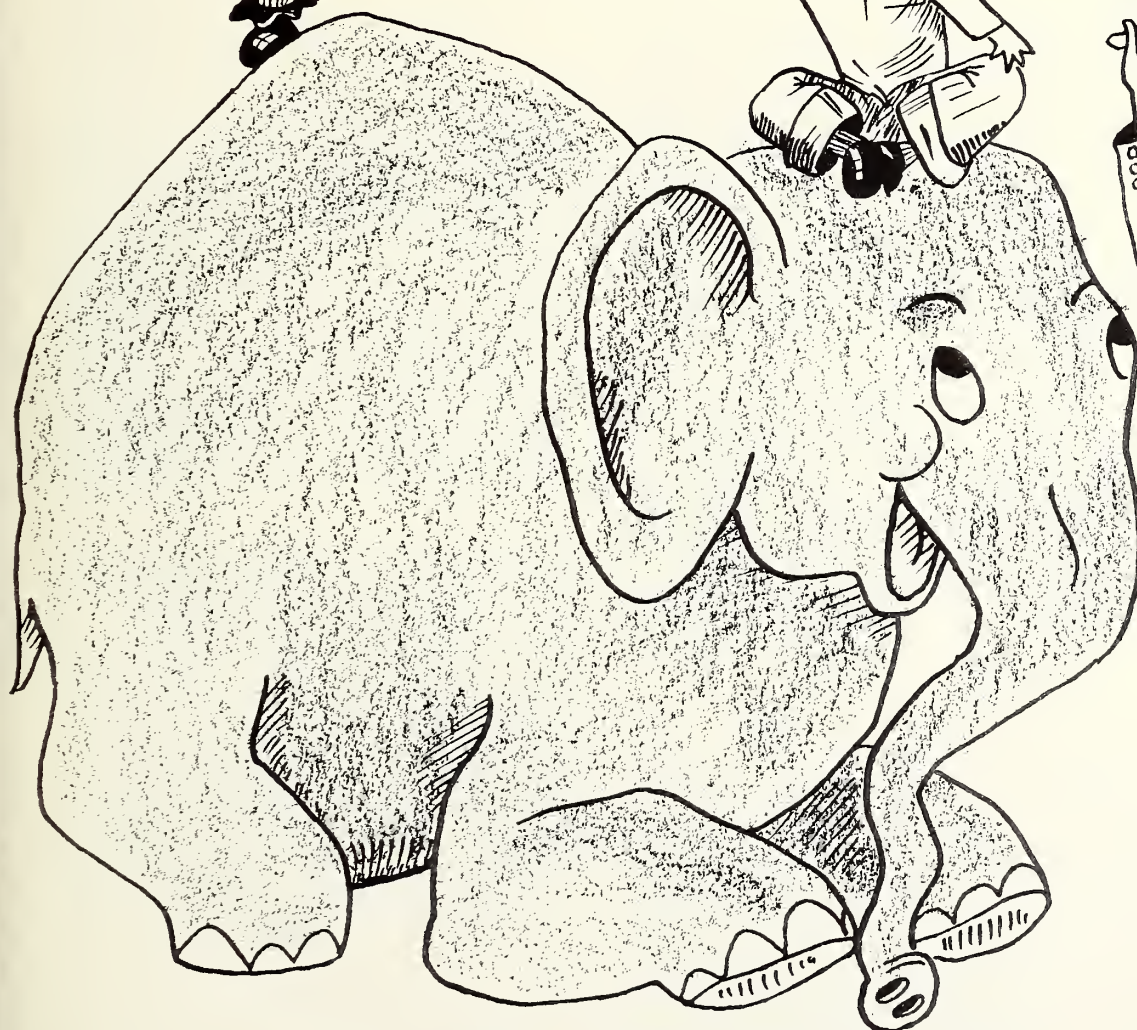

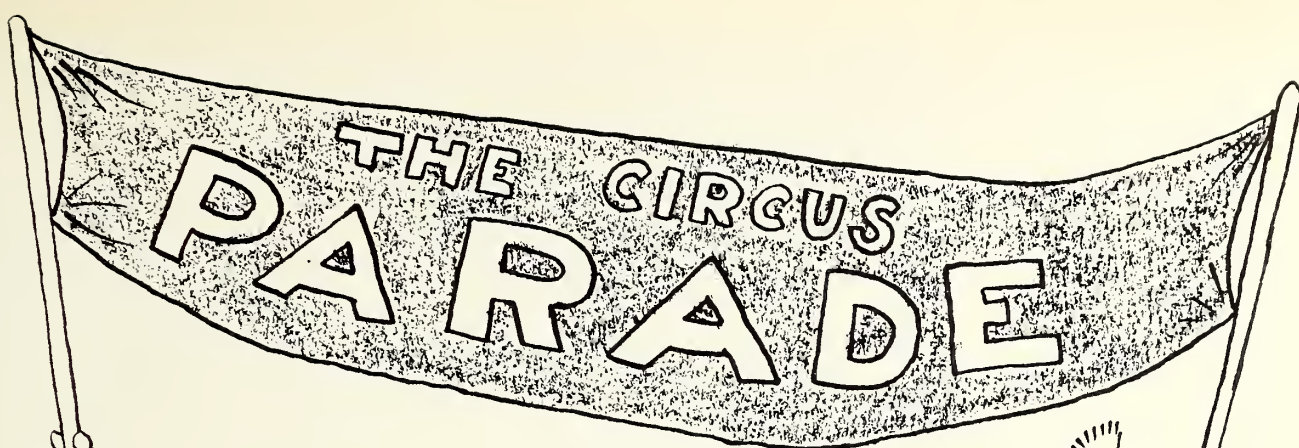

Presenting not the most famous show of Williamson County, nor yet the most famous show of that great and glorious State, that place where abide the stalwart and the true, the domicile where dwell truth and beauty forever wedded; no, not the greatest show of Texas. This show is much bigger, much grander, much more colossal, even more stupendous than that. Nor yet is this the greatest show in lo, these 48 grand and glorious states that go to comprise that greatest of all great nations, the United States of America. No, ladies and gentlemen, this show is greater, much greater, than that. For years the greatest group of technicians, artists, and laborers that has ever been in one place assembled has been working to bring you this extravaganza of extravaganzas. Again, let me remind you, this is not of Williamson County, nor of Texas, nor yet of the United States. This, Ladies and Gentlemen, is the Greatest Show on Earth!

From all the four corners of the earth and from each of the sixteen segments of the compass comes this show. It is quintessence itself seven times purified, so that the resultant quality is a product that would amaze even Mighty Zeus as he quaffs his nectar on olympus. Zeus must, perforce, own himself bettered were he enabled to view this show of shows.

And now, Music, Maestro, and let us have lights galore

As we present a show that you, one and all, will adore!

YOU ARE NOT GOING TO RIDE HIM IN THE PARADE!
NOW COME DOWN!

MORSE

Dedication

We, the staff of the 1954 Sou'wester, proudly dedicate this annual to the Southwestern University Board of Trustees, the tireless group of men who make not only this book, but Southwestern itself, possible.

We offer this annual, in behalf of the student body, as a tribute to these noble men, who graciously contribute their time, money, and enthusiasm to our alma mater.

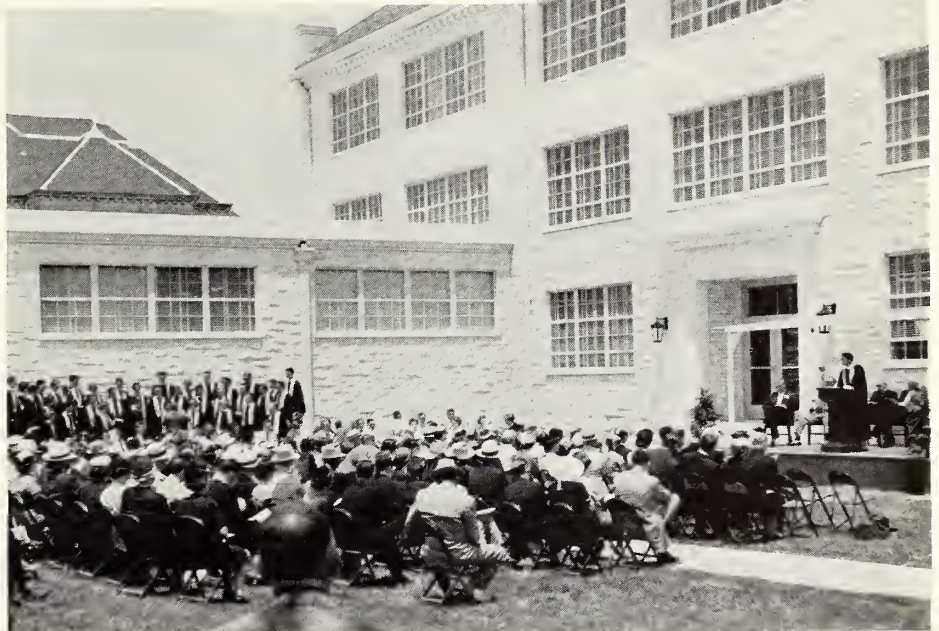

We present this annual to these great men in appreciation for their unrewarded effort which they have expended throughout the years of their service to Southwestern, and which they will undoubtedly continue to give gladly, year after year, throughout Southwestern's ever brighter future.

We give this annual proudly, yet humbly, to these noble men—The Southwestern University Board of Trustees.

HOMECOMING DAY 1954...

FONDREN SCIENCE HALL

The Fondren Science
Hall was dedicated.

Some lucky souls worked out their schedules with no trouble; but most of us felt as though we'd moved a mountain when our registration was complete.

The first formal occasion of the year allowed students and faculty to begin friendships outside the classroom.

At "get-acquainted" parties new students were welcomed, and freshmen began to understand why Southwestern students are famous for their sincere friendliness.

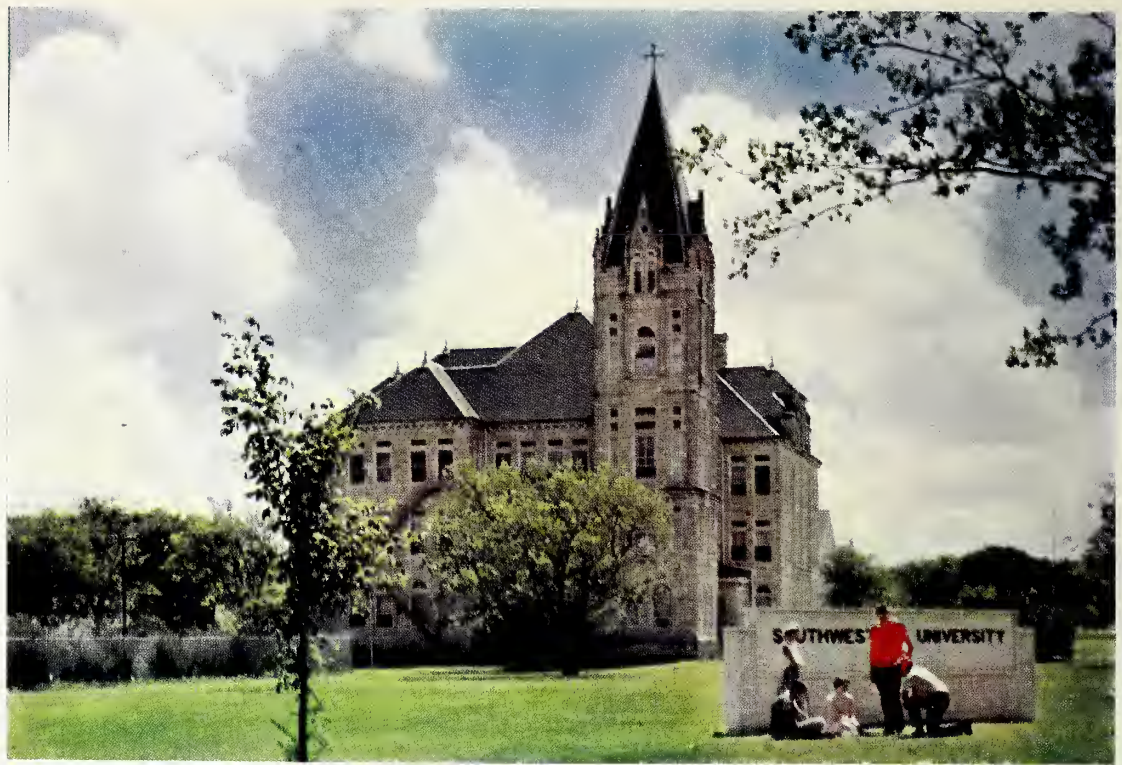

Though some people have other opinions, we really did come to college to get an education. Hard study during the week helped us to enjoy weekends of fun and relaxation.

We always loved singing, whether it was entertainment at a party or merely an informal barbershop quartet.

Broadway has nothing on our drama department. Remember their presentation of "Twelfth Night."

... and quite inspiring production was the annual Christmas Carol Service.

Art too, gave us a way of expressing our innermost desires and feelings.

Music has long played an important part in the lives of Southwestern's students. Long hours of practice perfected our orchestra.

Whether it was providing pep at our basketball games, or entertaining us in assembly, the band was always "on beat with a neat sheet."

Having reached a climax of learning — intellectual, spiritual, emotional—seniors leave Southwestern with mixed feelings of joy and regret.

BUILDING

We pause to shed a tear for the many trying hours we suffered in the registration and orientation maelstrom. We sweated out lines that made Hitler's Army seem like an intramural A&M Cadet Corp drill and we labored through examinations that would have spotted Einstein in the kindergarten class.

Also the Freshmen were sentenced to wear their beanies to "generate" their spirit for the Alma Mammy.

Carol Services

The Christmas Carol Service is one of the most beautiful of the traditions carried on by members of our S.U. circus. The singing of Carols at Christmas time draws people together in a true spirit of Christian fellowship.

The many visitors who come to hear the singing of traditional carols are a testimony to the hard work offered by the social groups to make this program a thing of beauty.

ELLSWORTH PETERSON—Organist

These are the men who helped to make the Carol Service a success; the organist, the narrator, and the ushers.

The Ushers: Albert Sanders, Jimmy Ross, Charles Hall, Bill Dippel, Curtis Pickens, Claude McClelland.

Not Pictured: Roland Folse, Guinn Williams.

Always smiling, always giving their best performance, the A Cappella Choir brought more "congratulations" to Southwestern.

The Basketball Band

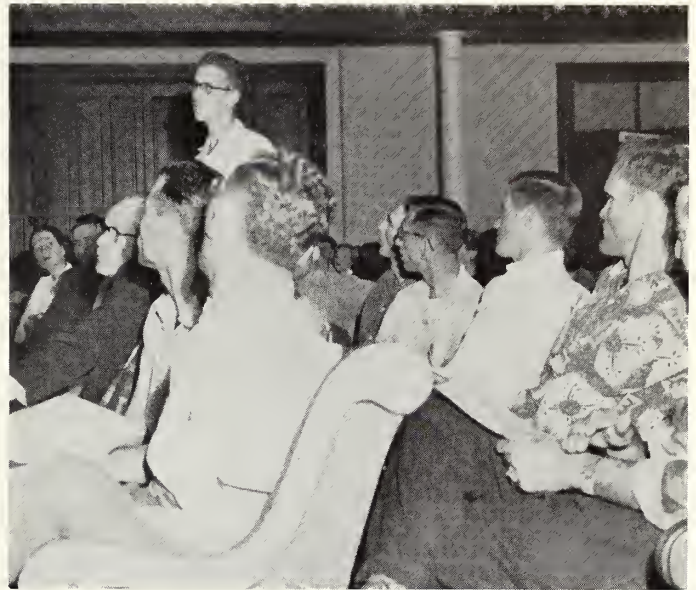

Music hath the power to soothe the savage beast, and soothe it does as it is wafted into the air via the media of the Southwestern Band. Many a long hour was spent in trying to coax just the right note out of each instrument. Here we have caught the band in just such an hour, under the capable hand of director Ralph Jones.

Also deserving of mention are the Dance Band and the Basketball Band, select groups chosen from the larger unit. These two organizations have made possible added spirit at basketball games and dances at the Alma Mater this year.

The College Town Hall in which business executives made a stab at answering students' questions concerning business and its relation to government, education, politics, and other fields.

Twelfth Night

The Mask and Wig players who attempt to interpret life to us. What long hours of exhaustive rehearsals they must undergo before daring to show their art to the critical eyes of their contemporaries! And to what dizzy heights they take us as they unroll the world of the drama before our eyes or tickle our funny bones with hypothetical incongruities which would do honor to the bright lights of Broadway. The marvel is that the players, after being subjected to every type of torture known to man as they rehearse their parts to get them down letter perfect, can still be on friendly terms, even come to venerate, the director who puts them through their paces, never relenting until absolute perfection is attained or until the muse is completely exhausted.

Week End

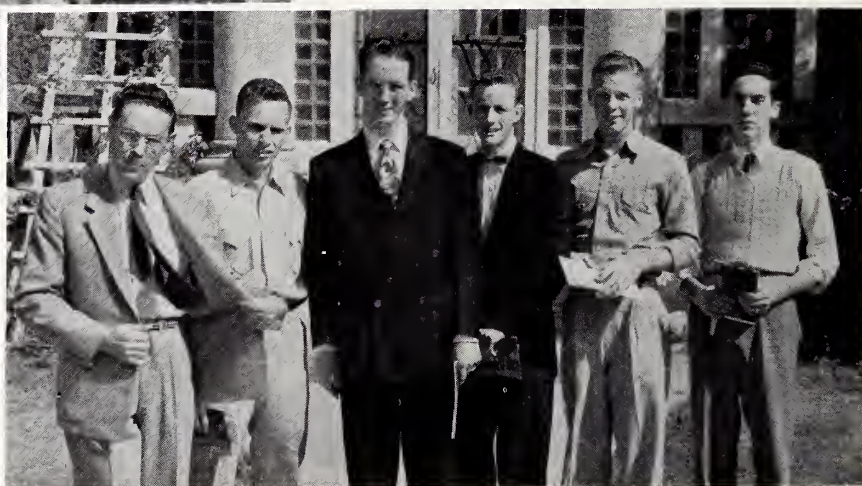

... And who will forget the friendly invasion to which we fell prey this year? Over two hundred and fifty high schoolers descended upon us to put the old "git up and git" back in our veins. Our hearts were gladdened as we saw the beautiful chicks and handsome lads hieing hither, thither, and yon through our hallowed halls, sequestered in antiquity and venerated with age.

And so off to see the campus

Ladies and Gentlemen!

Not all is whipped cream on top nor the aerialist who soars so gracefully through the air, nor yet the tinsel props that shed their myriad shafts of light. There is that which must be behind those out in front. No show could ever be presented were it not for the stage hands, the roustabouts, and those often unsung heroes who make the stage play possible. It gives us great pleasure to introduce our "Roustabouts" that make it possible for us to star in the Show of Shows.

Dr. Sultan Ahmad Tremazi Fellow in Chemistry

Dr. Sultan Ahmad Tremazi, Assistant Oil Technologist of Punjab Agricultural College at Lyallpur, arrived at Southwestern in September and spent the fall and spring months in teaching and research in the university's chemistry department. He received the master of science degree in chemistry in spring commencement after submitting his thesis on "A Survey of Cottonseed Processing Industry in Texas." Dr. Tremazi's research papers on oil seeds experiments are being published by the Texas Academy of Science and the Journal of Chemical Education in Washington, D.C. He was a featured speaker before the physical sciences section of the Texas Academy of Science at Galveston on December 5, 1953, reading his paper on "The Oil Content of the Seeds of Toria." According to Dr. W. C. Finch, "Tremazi's work on our campus has been of real profit to Southwestern's department of science, to agriculture and industry in Texas, and will assist his further research on his return to Pakistan."

Ladies and Gentlemen!

The world is ever with us and so is the beautiful. No show could exist for long without something of the beautiful. For this presentation, Ladies and Gentlemen, we have again combed the four corners of the earth to discover and present to you the most beautiful creatures of God's creation. These ladies are of such ethereal beauty as to preclude there ever appearing anyone, either past, present, or in the future who could successfully rival their enshrined comeliness. Behold, if you please, the most beautiful women in the world!

Ladies and Gentlemen!

A word of explanation. This show is too huge, too super cosmic, too utterly gigantic in all its manifest colossalness to be presented in one act. To do so would be to confuse the conglomerated brains of all the bards from Shakespeare to Thornton Wilder of "Our Town" fame. They would utterly fail in their attempt to present this show on one stage, in one ring. Thus, we have divided it up into three glorious rings which we now unveil for your pleasure.

Ladies and Gentlemen!

In every show there must be a high point, a high point of points. We come now to this pinnacle beyond this there is nothing but void, the place where Columbus and his ships were supposed to fall to. This, presented in the exact center of the ring, with all other rings and events completely blacked out and muted into reverent attention, is the Grand Finale. This is it.

Southwestern University School of Fine Arts

presents

The Chamber Opera Players in

CAPTAIN LOVELOCK

under the direction of Hazen Lewis

April 30, 1954

This was one of the many presentations during the year by the school of fine arts. They added the culture to the campus and presented some fine entertainment for those who attended.

THE SENIORS ARE HONORED AT A RECEPTION
GIVEN BY DR. AND MRS. FINCH

.... AND FINALLY GRADUATE ON THE LAST DAY OF MAY.
